Update – Christina Rae Davison Found

Kilgore, TX – Christina Rae Davison reported missing from Kilgore since May 15, 2014 has been located in Lexington, Kentucky. Kilgore Police Department Criminal Investigation Unit was notified early this morning that Mrs. Davison had been arrested at about 1:00 a.m. in Lexington. The arrest stemmed from an outstanding Harrison County Texas warrant along with local charges in Lexington. Detectives confirmed Davison’s identity via a photograph and briefly spoke with her by telephone. The family has been notified of her well being and location. Davison appears to have been living in Kentucky since her disappearance in May of 2014.

Circumstances surrounding her disappearance led to an extensive investigation and a belief foul play may have been involved. During the course of the investigation, detectives received and followed numerous leads many of which suggested Davison was deceased and may have been murdered. Detectives and Investigators from both the Kilgore Police Department and Harrison County Sheriff’s Office interviewed multiple witnesses and persons of interest during the course of the investigation. Preliminary information indicates Davison may have planned her own disappearance.
